

Pastor's Corner: Have you ever had negative thoughts? Maybe they were the results of someone being unkind or maybe you were being unkind to yourself. Whether it's dieting, exercise, or any other type of positive habit building, one thing that's always extremely hard is consistency. We get discouraged, we get distracted, and we give up, but we are called to live tenaciously. Never giving up and constantly reaffirming the good things that God has spoken into our lives. No matter what anyone says, you are loved, and you are cared for. So, cling to that truth. Live it out because God wants us to live lives that are driven by his truth and his love, things we should never let go of. Accept this truth into your life and believe it in the life of your neighbor as well.
